FADS ARE SIGNS OF THE TIMES

West Albany fads are destined to change from year to year. The style has gone from "disco" to more refined. Fads are intended to be a means of personal expression, but generally it seems that kids follow them to be more alike and accepted. Students tend to fall into a mold. People invest a lot of money in them, so they must be important. I will forever fight fadistic stuff!

GAPS EXPECTS TOO MUCH

G.A.P.S. expected too much of the student to come that early to school and stay as late as some people did for sports and other activities. It seemed that things were a lot more disorganized and that people at West Albany got less attention, although the school board was really helpful. Overall, the 1979-80 unification program did not make that much of a drastic change in the way school life went at West Albany.

WEST HEADS EAST WITH FALL PLAY

"East Lynn", a dramatic melodrama, started off the 1979-80 drama season. Karen Novak played Lady Isabel Vane, the fair heroine whose life is shattered when she reads a note forged by the villainous Captain Levison stating that her husband, Archibald, is in love with Barbra Hare, the girl next door. Mark Brunette played Archibald Carlyle, the dashing hero. Thinking that Isabel has deserted him and run off with Captain Levison, Archibald marries Barbra Hare. They live happily ever after until the dying Lady Isabel returns to see her son little Willie. However, Isabel is found out by Archibald, and after a touching forgiveness scene, Isabel collapses and dies on the couch leaving Archibald with these words of wisdom: "Remember that there's something bigger than right or wrong, it's helping one another."

SPIRIT AND STUDENTS MERGE

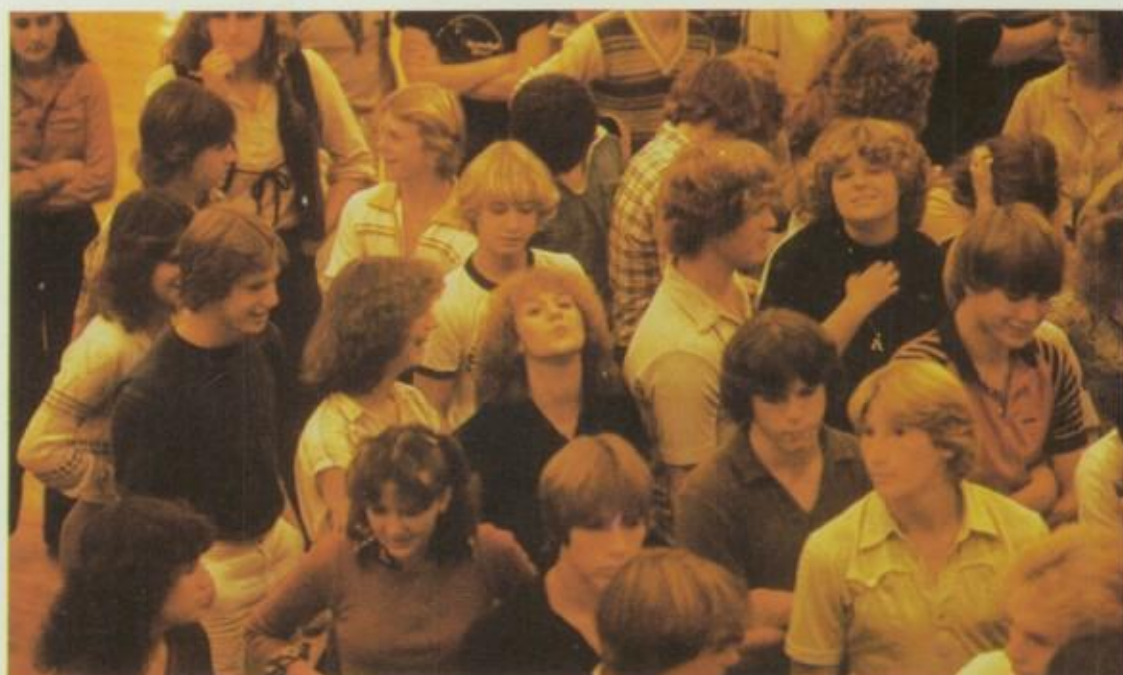

The student body was extremely enthusiastic this year, and it was mainly due to the spirited senior and junior classes. The sophomores started slowly but by the end of basketball season were competitive with the upper classes. The seniors and juniors were very competitive during both spirit weeks, with the seniors winning the football spirit week and the juniors winning the basketball spirit week. Overall, the student body showed good school spirit and a lot of class at both the home games and around the league.

ONE WAY ENTHUSIASM

"Spirit week was a kick in the pants this year for those who did anything. Some sort of apathy seemed to grip this year's sophomores when it was time to dress funny or act weird. They preferred being 'cool'."

"Anyway, I had a lot of fun on cowboy day and blue and gold day, but my favorite one of all was nurd day and being Ralph Sophomore. I owe everything I am today to Ralph; he put me on the map."

HOMECOMING '79 "THIS IS IT"

The Homecoming Court was chosen at dubbing assembly on October 1.

A disc jockey from Eugene did the music. The dress was semi-formal, and the theme was "This is it!"

The dance lasted from 8:00 to 11:30.

Homecoming was different this year because it was held on a Saturday at the Elks Lodge, and instead of using traditional mums, we used carnations.

Becoming Homecoming queen was very surprising and exciting. I think most everybody had a good time. I know I did.

NO SOFT SHOULDER

We finished the season 4-5, but we were better than the record. We were a little lazy in practice but we hit harder than any team we competed against because we were psyched for the games.

Sophomores Mark Ragsdale, Dave Quevedo, Tom Sykes, and John True were our outstanding defensive players. The defense was quick and hit hard. We communicated well as a team and played hard most of the time.

Our offense was okay although they let down a lot. Sophomores Terry Ramsey, Larry Whitt, and Kevin Podrabsky carried the offense. When Podrabsky would break away for a 50 or 60 yard run, he'd do most of it on his own.

Our big game was against South Albany. The defense caused a number of turnovers and we took two South Albany guys out of the game. We played hard, aggressively, and were really psyched up. All-around, it was a great game. We won 24-20.

JUNIORS GET THE GREEN LIGHT

"The supporting crowd helped the juniors bring the game together with a 6-0 score on the hot afternoon of October 3rd. The juniors team did a great job of holding some of the better seniors players Lori Boone and Linda Groves. The winning play for the juniors was an underhand pass to Vicki Stickler who ran for a 60 yard touchdown. Juniors Meg Looney and Senior Shelly Mathews stopped a great deal of offensive plays by forcing their way through the front line. In the final seconds of the game, a penalty called back a senior touchdown that could have created a tie."

"The game was all for fun, though winning was the main goal for both teams.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY BREAKS SPEED LIMIT

Girls' cross country was a lot of fun this year and although we didn't do as well as the boys, we hadn't been running as long, either. Donna was probably the most outstanding: she placed sixth at state.

Mr. Klemp was a big help. He never pushed us and always knew what he was talking about. We learned what it means to run competitively.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY SIGNALLED FULL SPEED AHEAD

This years cross-country team pulled 38 wins and suffered only 10 losses. There were 6 seniors this year so we wanted to go to state, unfortunately we came in 3rd at district. So that ended that. There wasn't any one outstanding person, Hansen, Presley, and I were all pretty close together.

ROUGH ROAD FOR GIRLS GYMNASTICS

The girls performed well throughout the season considering how small our team was. There were quite a few sophomores and two freshmen members, so the team had a lot of beginners. Also, the competition was really tough, and by the end of the season, we had improved a lot.

The girls got along together most of the time but didn't work together as a team. There wasn't much team spirit.

The three seniors, Teri Cate, Darla Penning, and myself were the back-bone of the team, with all three of us scoring high at district.

DIPS AND BUMPS SLOW BOYS GYMNASTICS

The guys performed really well for as small as our team was. If there were more guys, we could have spent a lot of time on a certain event, but instead, we had to work all around.

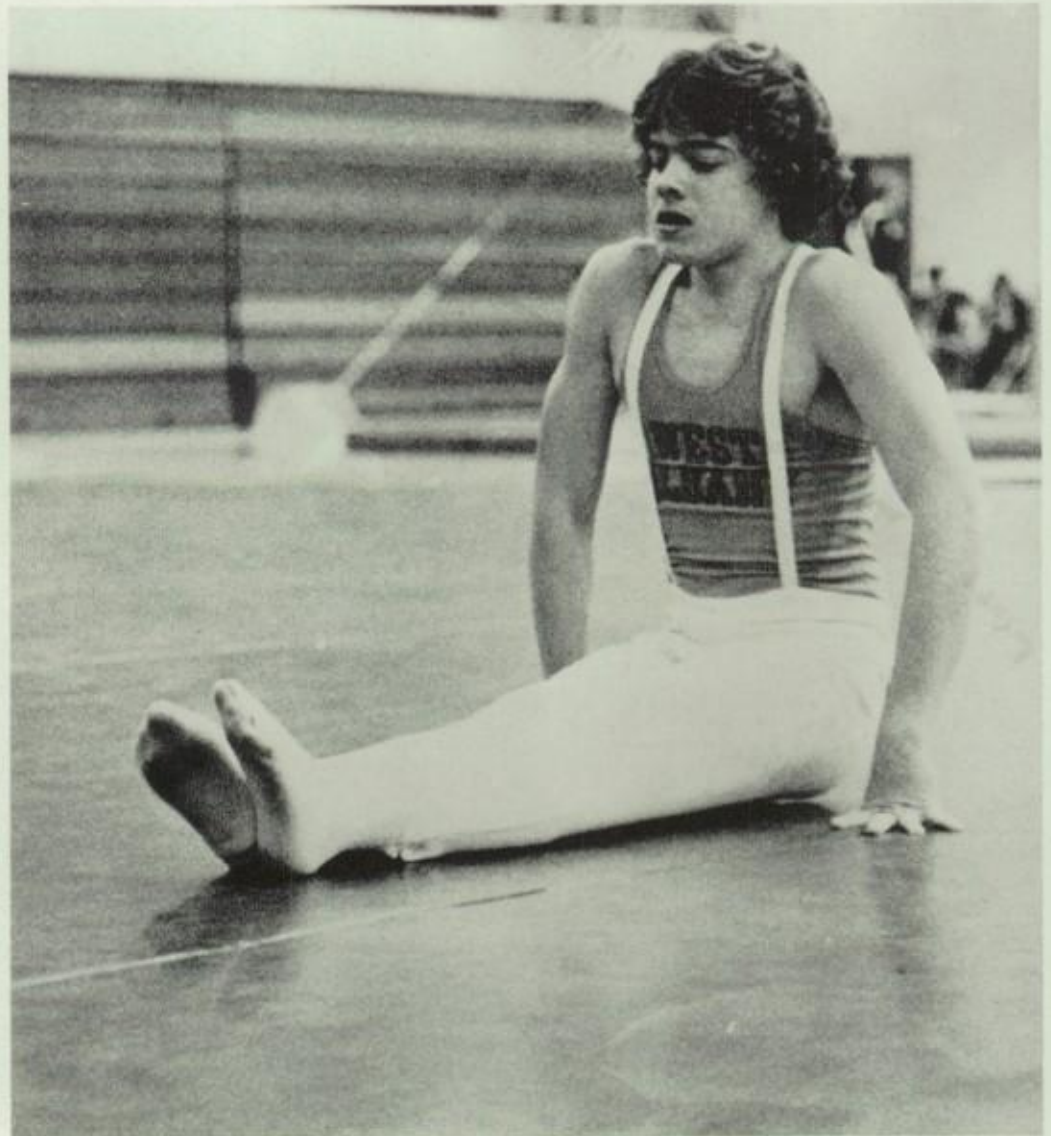

The guys worked pretty good together and really put forth a team effort. We got along well together.

I think Todd Spivey was the most improved gymnast, and Andreas Loeffler went to district finals on the high bar and pommel horse.

SOCCER PLAYERS GET THEIR KICKS

This year's boys soccer team, I feel, was a success. We had an Iranian coach who was on the 1978 National Small College All-Star soccer team, so he really knew his soccer. Team unity was a large aspect of our game, and was greatly stressed. As a result, there was more of a team effort which contributed to our final record. Junior, Craig Koehrson, our team captain, really helped our team both defensively and offensively. Soccer is an excellent sport.

GIRLS SOCCER DOUBLE PARKED

"This year's girls' soccer team was a definite improvement over last year's team. We had a better coach and a little experience under our belts. Because of this combination, we finished the season with an improved 4-5-2 record, as compared to last year's 1-10 season final.

"Junior Lori Leiberman received the outstanding defensive player award, and freshman Trish Jackson was voted the all-around outstanding soccer player, an award which she truly deserved. With soccer quickly becoming a major U.S. sport, we hope that more people will recognize and support it as such."

Laura Eusterman

GIRLS OUT SPIKE OPPONENTS

"Volleyball was a good experience for me. It really taught me a lot about myself."

"The Varsity team was much improved this year. The girls worked really hard and it paid off. The season record, 7-11, was better than it has been in past years."

"The highlight of the season was our win against South Salem. Our ability to play well together and our consistency were behind the win. We received serves well. Because of this, Valerie Wright and I were able to set accurately thus allowing our primary hitters, Sue, Tracy, and Kirsten, to execute their spikes with force. It felt great to beat them after having been the underdog for three years."

"I thought dressin' up would be a lot of fun or somethin'. There was nothin' else to do. I used my mother's friend's outfit. She was an old lady with a bunch of clothes. I put my own make-up on. My top half was fake. I used some socks I found layin' around."

WRESTLERS GET THE WINNING SIGNAL

The Bulldogs had a good start this season, winning their first league match in four years.

We had a strong team this year with five excellent seniors and a lot of good underclassmen.

Another strong point was that we worked as a team, there were no outstanding individuals like there had been in the past.

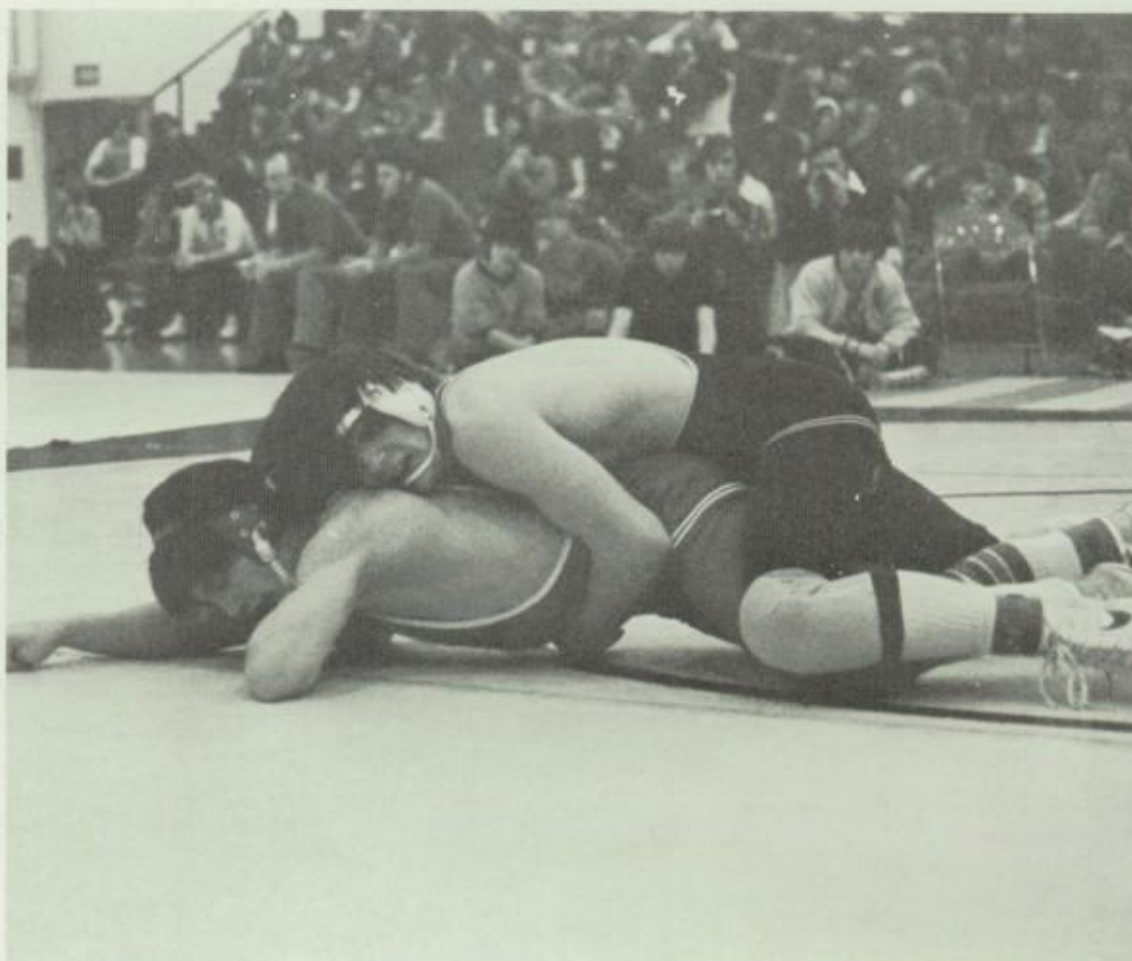

We had a lot of depth in the lower and middle weights but not in the heavier ones. Consequently, some of the lighter weights had to wrestle in the heavier ones to take up the slack.

SLIPPERY WHEN WET

Both the swimming and diving team made a competitive effort during the 1979-80 season. Though small in numbers, both teams held their own in the pool.

We suffered under the iron hand of Coach Becker twice a day — at 5:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

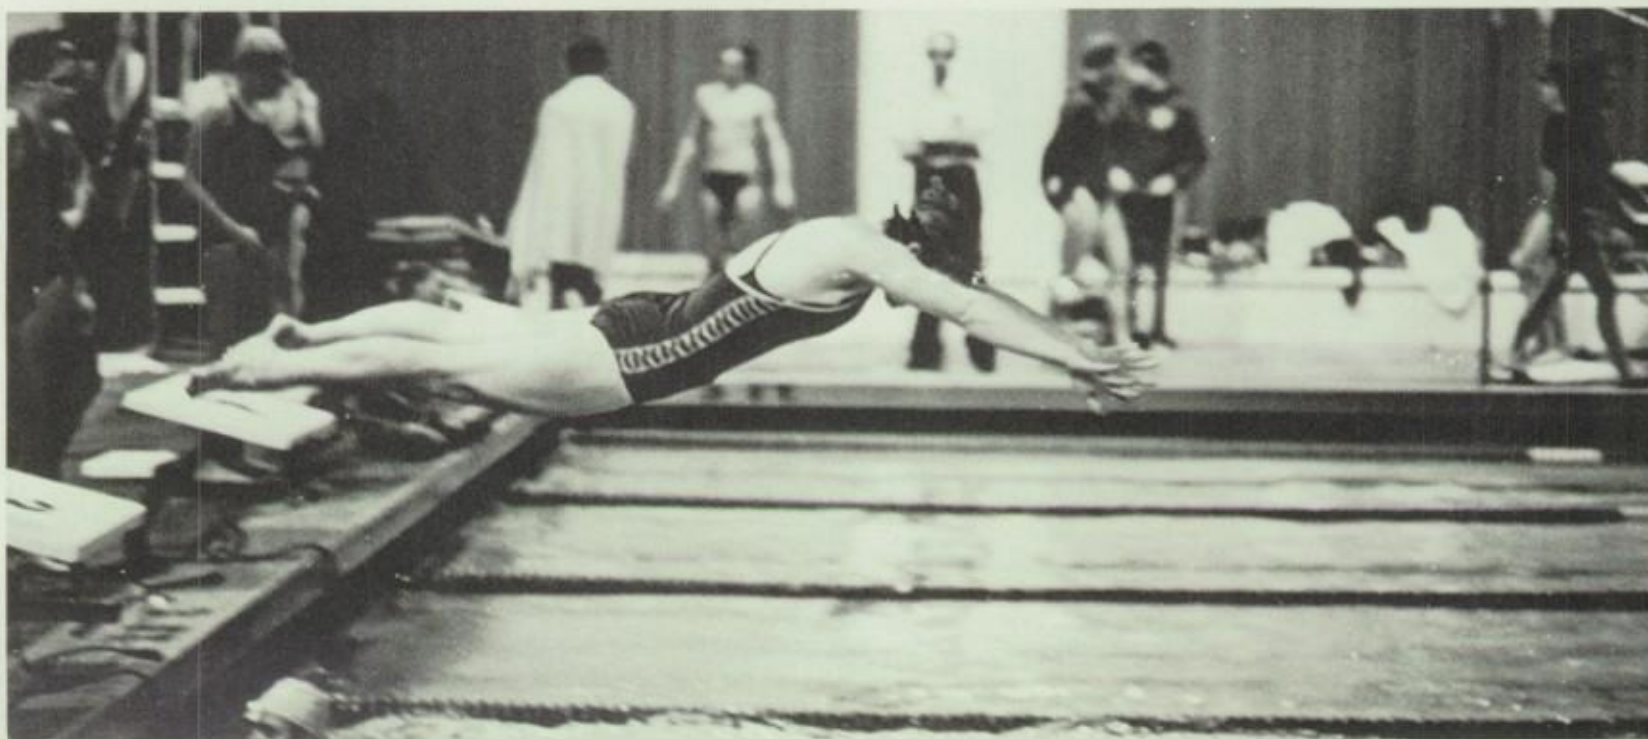

The team did very well at the district meet. For their exceptional performances there, Ann (100-yard freestyle and 200-yard freestyle), Lisa, Patty, and I (100-yard breaststroke), qualified for the state meet. All four of us participated in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Robin Ginet, Wiley Smith, and Tom Lavallo dove under the direction of Coach Steinhauser. Robin placed high at district out of a large field.

Mary received the Most Improved Swimmer award, and I accepted the 1980 Most Outstanding Swimmers award for Craig and myself.

BULLDOGS DETOURED TO HAWAII

This was a really good year for us. We only lost to one team out of the top ten, and we maintained our place.

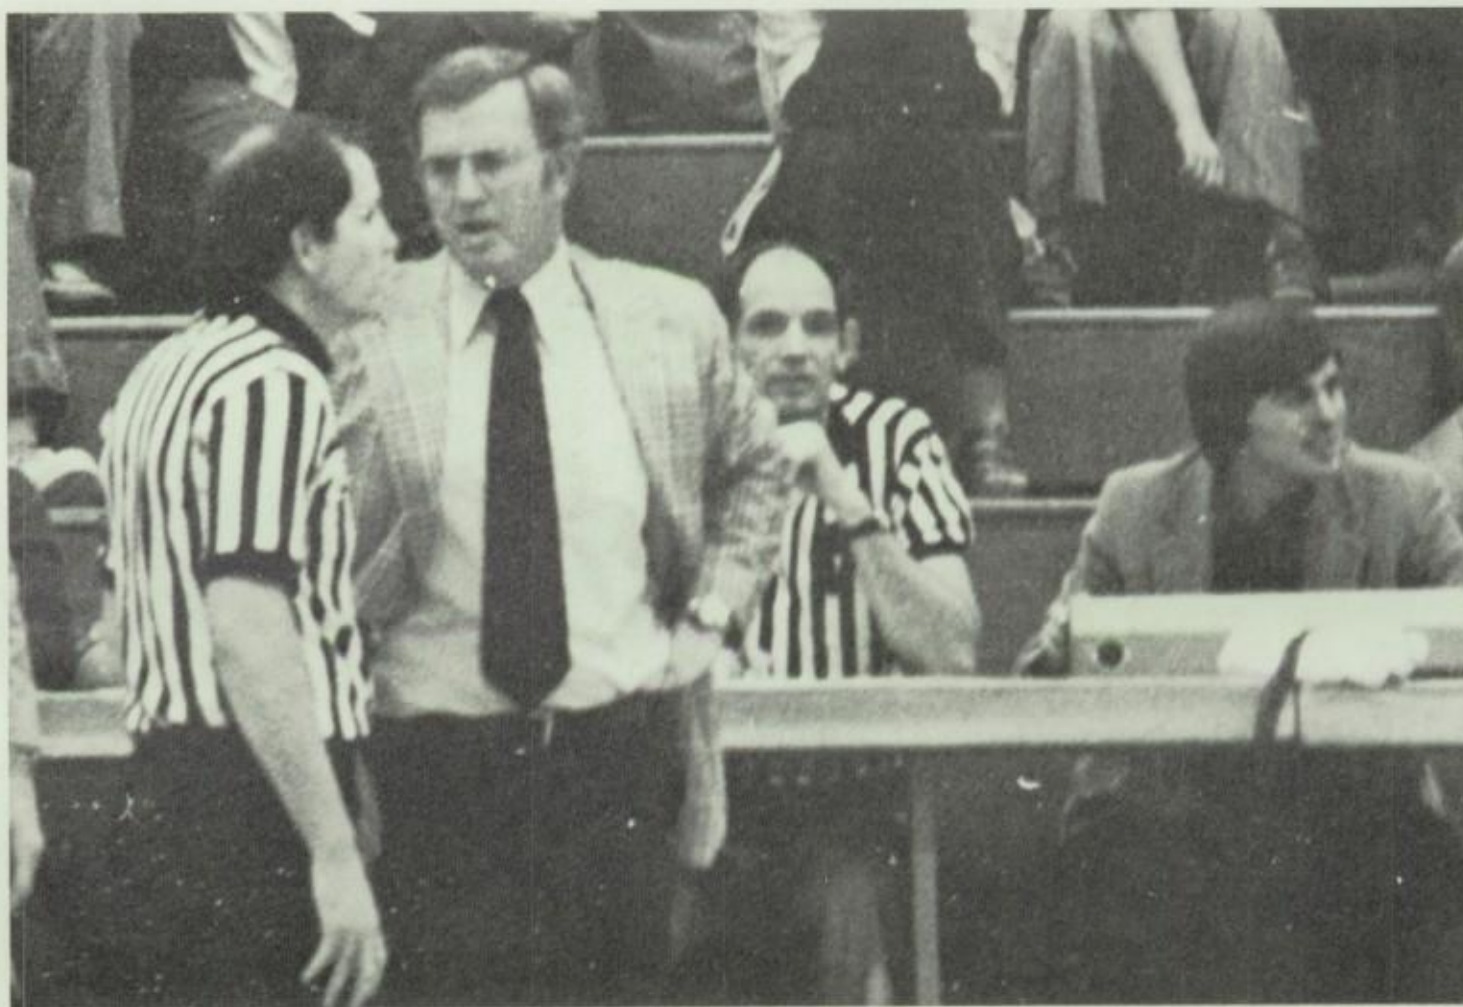

The team was pretty close knit unit this year and we really got along well. We had good sportsmanship and enjoyed what we were doing.

Outside the league, we went to Hawaii for a week and played two games and won both. All around it was a great year.

We did a pretty good job this year. We started out good early in the season and continued through mid season, but slacked off at the end.

The team got along really well and worked together as a team. No one person was outstanding as a member. We beat most of the teams by out hustling them.

The guys improved a lot and I'm really looking forward to next year's team.

TEAM WORK KEEPS GIRLS ON TRACK

We did very well as a team this year. It was a successful year.

We all got along very well together. We were a positive thinking team which made it nice to work together. Because we got along so well, we had a good time out on the floor while we were playing.

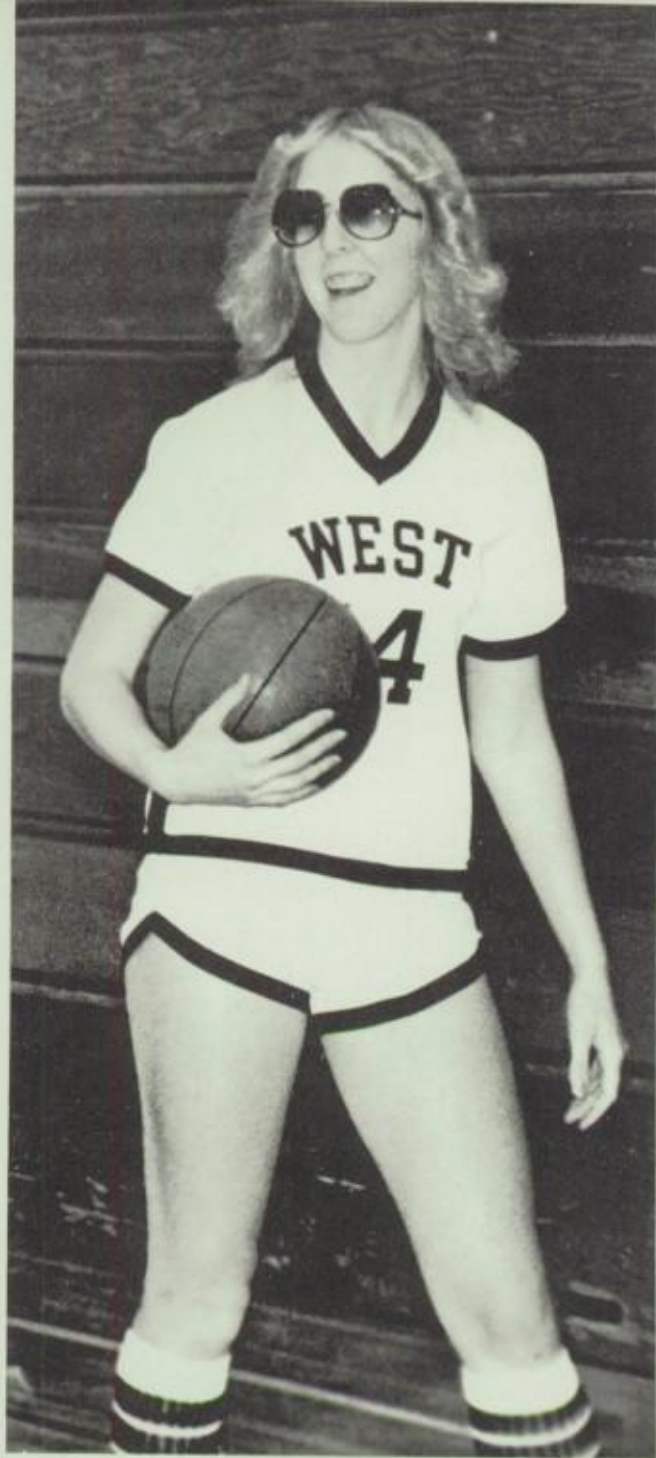

There is no one person that was overwhelming in talent. We relied on team work and effort rather than one dominate figure.

I think people respected us as a team because we have improved overall as a team.

"GREAT EXPECTATIONS" LEADS WAY

"The theme to the Christmas prom was 'Great Expectations'. It lasted from 8:00 to 11:00. The performing band was Great House."

"The decorations for the dance were hanging sheets, and Christmas trees scattered over the dance floor. There was also a buggy and a sleigh for pictures, which were taken out in the hall."

"The band was set up on the north side of the cafeteria, up on the stage. There was no queen and only two couples represented each class. The majority of the people who went had a good time."

WINTER ACTIVITIES ENCOUNTER NO DEAD ENDS

This winter was full of a lot of winter activities. Proms, ski retreats, and sports made this winter worthwhile. We had an extra day of vacation due to an extra amount of snow.

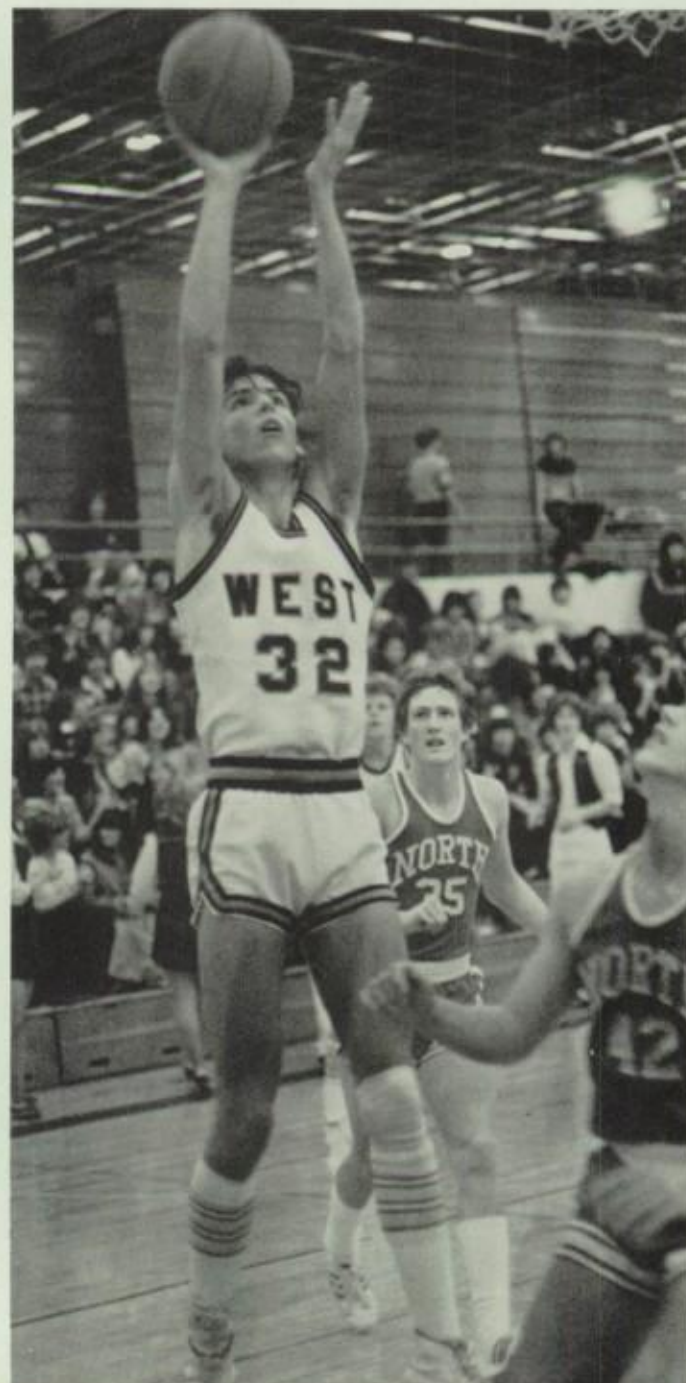

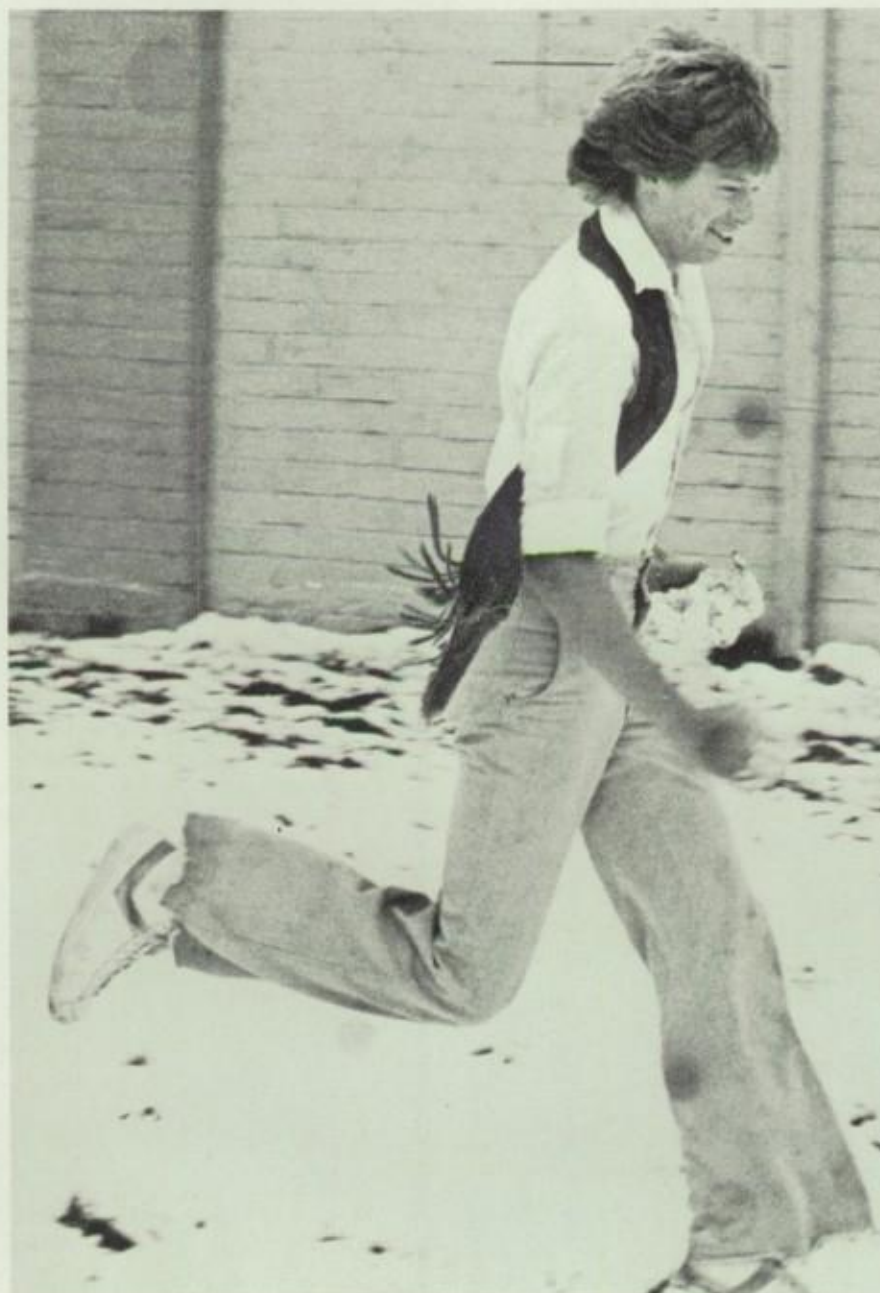

Seniors put on a really nice Christmas prom. The band played different music, but it kept everybody going. The Valentine's Prom is coming up, and it is predicted to turn out really good. This prom is a girl-ask-guy.

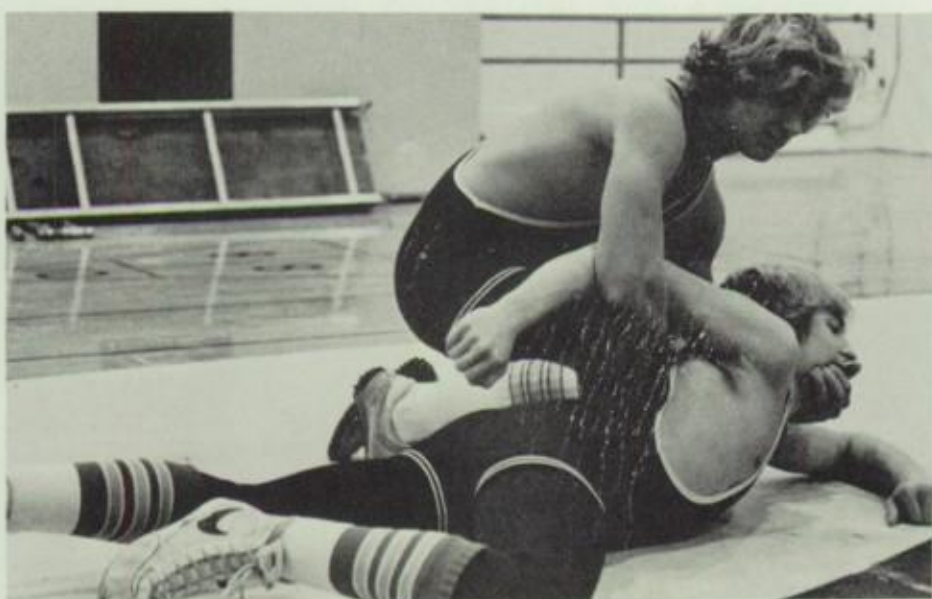

This year's varsity boys' basketball team went to Hawaii to gain experience. The team was successful in the valley league polls. The girls' varsity basketball team has a great year for building. There were a lot of other sports that added to the fun of this winter.

TOGA, TOGA, ROME SURVIVES

Once again, Latin club was very successful in staging its toga dance for 1980. This function is so popular it's becoming a tradition at West. Bill McCraith, Latin teacher, and Latin club members worked long and hard to assure its success.

While many students rose to meet the occasion, donning togas and baring skin, most just attended for the sport and mirth.

The proceeds from this dance fill the coffers to be spent on the Appian Way to distant cities, such as San Francisco.

VALENTINE'S DAY! SIGNS OF AFFECTION

"Rich and I had a really nice time this Valentine's Day. We started the morning by having this lovely picture taken. Each of us gained about five pounds from all the cookies and goodies we received. The home ec rooms filled the school with great smells.

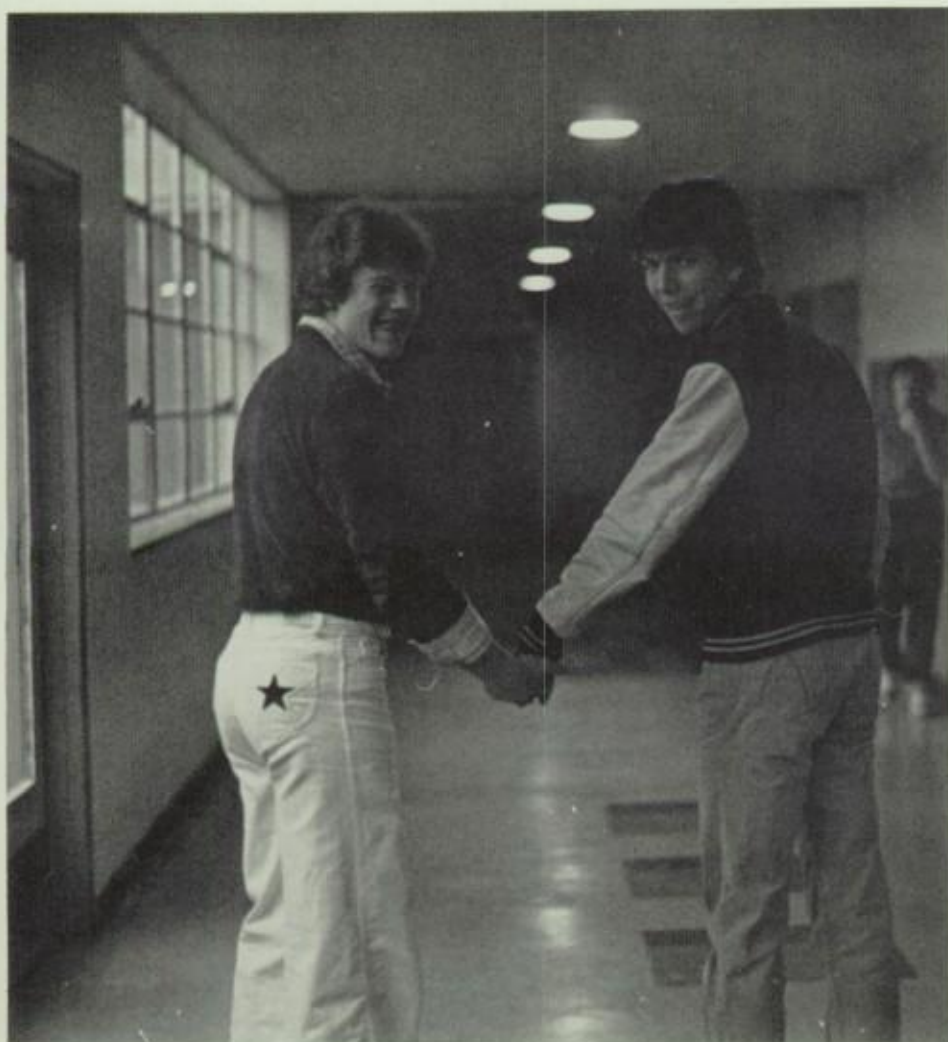

During lunch we witnessed a smashing performance by White Fantasy. This is just a group a few members of our student body put together this year. The day was really great, but we won't talk about that night. The cheerleaders put on a great pep assembly. If you don't believe us, just ask Mark Brunette.

We still will not reveal who the Albany Gigolo, Big Burt, and Killer were, who sent a few girls anonymous Val-a-Grams from South Albany. The unknown Five-Alive group sent West basketball players a Val-a-Gram discussing the previous South-West game.

We will still accept any late Valentine's kisses."

IF YOU THINK I DRIVE BAD, YOU SHOULD SEE ME PUTT

The boy's team finished 3rd at district this year but failed to qualify for state. We also didn't have any individuals qualify.

We were an extremely young team. There were one senior, two juniors, and the rest were sophomores and freshmen.

Mark Landes and Craig Taylor will be really good next year because they both played well this year. Chris Carey will also be competitive.

We practiced 4 nights a week and on weekends at Springhill Country Club. It was really generous of them to allow us to play there free, and the whole team appreciated it.

GIRLS GOLF SLOWED BY INEXPERIENCE

Ours girl's golf team finished fifth in the team standings at district. We didn't win very many matches but we had a lot of fun.

Our team was really young. We had one freshman, Mindy Haseman; two sophomores, Cathy Garriott and Carole Transue; and only one senior, myself. Those three all have the potential to finish high in districts in a few years, depending on how hard they work.

Our coach, Robert Hill, seemed to enjoy our company (most of the time) though he couldn't understand some of our teenager jokes.

TRACK CONSTRUCTION UNDERWAY FOR NEXT YEAR

We finished our season with not too many wins but we were a young team. I guess you could say this year was a building year. Chris Johnson has competed really well all year and has a good chance at finishing high at district, as does Cindy Polensky. I was upset when I found out that my foot was broken at the Springfield Invitation track meet but I figured it was my last race so I finished anyway. Coach Blasquez has been helpful this year. It was a neat team.

TRACKSTERS EXCEED SPEED LIMIT

We finished our track season with a duel meet record of 6-1. We had a number of returning lettermen but we lost last year's standouts like Tim Smith, Tony Rothen-gas, and Nick Kelsay.

Our strongest point was probably our dis-tance runners Mark Adams, Bill Brudvig, Mark Presley, Steve Hanson, and myself. We usually swept the distance events.

Kevin Gero has been tough all year in the hurdles, as has Presley in the mile and Jim Cunningham in the discuss and shot. Both relay teams have also done well.

Coach Luster has worked hard this year, probably the hardest of any of his 25 years. He's been really excited about our team because he thinks we have a shot at winning the league title.

JV TURNS RIGHT TO VARSITY

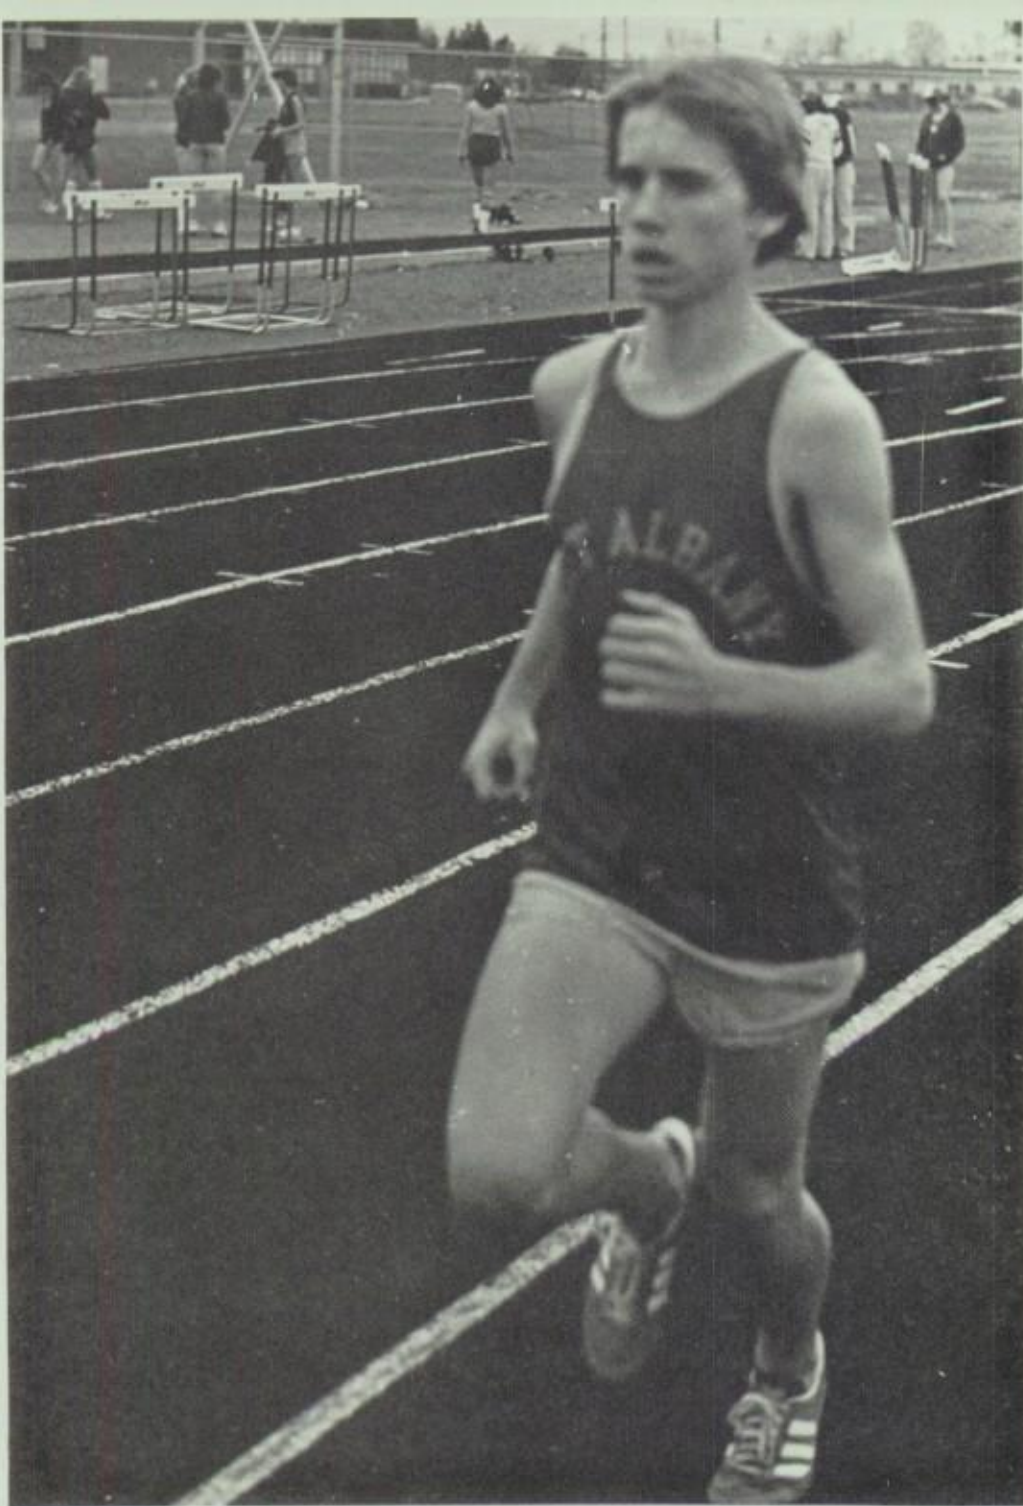

Unlike varsity track, junior varsity track really doesn't have a dual record. J.V. track is an opportunity to improve your self so that you can compete on varsity. Our team was made up of mostly freshmen and sophomores. There were about 26 freshmen out this year, so we were young and inexperienced. Track is beginning to change. It's becoming more individualized. The coaches were cooperative and provided us with much help. Probably the best part about track this year was the weather.

JV'ERS SEEK THE FAST LANE

The purpose of JV is to give people the experience necessary to compete at the Varsity level. Between both teams, there were about 55 guys out for track.

Ashley Hill competed well in the hurdles, as did Brian Smith in the long distance races.

I really liked track because track guys are a great group of guys.

TENNIS IS OUR RACKET

This years Girls Tennis Team was pretty successful in their dual matchs. Each of us worked equally hard to go to district. About three out of eight people went to the district finals. Individual hard work payed off for everyone. But it wasn't all hard work; we all grew closer together and had a great time. Season matches didn't have much problems with the weather, the sun was on our side most of the time.

LOVERS SERVE THE TENNIS TEAM

Each of us worked hard at the dual matches to make a successful year. We developed a lot of new skills and improved from last year. We have quit a few seniors this year so we'll have a young team next year.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL GETS THE BIG ONE

This was softball's second year as a letter sport at West, and we had a few changes. Practice at the first of the season involved weight training, running, and a bunch of drills. The heavy workouts slacked off after awhile, and we did more scrimmaging outside. Coach Adams ordered new long pants for our uniforms. They saved a lot of wear and tear on our legs from sliding.

We had a good turnout for two teams, but there was not a clear division between them. A lot of members played on both teams before staying with one. Varsity didn't do too well in league competition; J.V. didn't play as many games but had a better record.

The players loosened up after the first inning and started playing well, but by then the damage was done. The J.V. team did best when the members didn't take games so seriously. Everyone had their good and bad days, and different players proved themselves during the season, such as Janay, Cathy, Wilma, and Dana. They will be strong for next year's team.

CHILDREN AT PLAY

"So far we have had a very good year, and are fighting for a playoff spot in what has been a very equal and competitive league," says Reed Rainey, one of the top pitchers in the league, and the state of Oregon. "Had it not been for losses against McNary, Corvallis, and South Albany, we would be battling for the title."

West has quite a few good players. Pete Bailey leads the league in home runs, and late in the season has been pitching well. "Moose" Lichtenthaler is a very solid baseball player, being a possible all-league selection. Mike McAllister has developed into a good catcher and consistent hitter, and is a big boost to the Bulldogs." "I feel the team is a very close-knit group, being friends on and off the field. This relationship shows with the teamwork during games. We have shown the drive and determination that few teams can come up with during the season."

FOUL PLAY: PLAGUES JV'ERS

This year's Junior Varsity baseball team did pretty good. Kevin Podrabsky was a valuable player, and Mike Villanueva did a good job catching. Jerry Coe played well on first base, and Greg Duke was a good pitcher also. The only game that really stands out was the game against South Albany. Buck's (Kevin Podrabsky) homerun in the bottom of the seventh inning won the game for us. That was exciting.

Coach Anderson did an acceptional job for his first year, but he liked to throw the bat alot. Although we only had three wins this season, we're a pretty young team, and we'll do alot better next year if we work together. We have potential and I think we'll improve.

EXIT, STAGE RIGHT

This year's spring play was "Up the Down Staircase." The story centered around a young woman who has her first teaching at a rough city highschool, and how she attempts to cope with unruly students. Finally Miss Barrett succeeds in her teaching goal, despite the uncooperative behavior of her students, and pressures of administration. The major triumph of the play is when Miss Barrett persuades the school radical, Joe Feroni (excellently played by Craig Martin) to stay in school and put his intelligence to work. Laura Eusterman was outstanding as Miss Barrett, the young teacher. Reagan McMorris put a lot of energy into the character of the principal, Mr. McHabe, and all the students did a really good job. I think everyone put alot of effort into the play. It's amazing how close people get when working together in a situation like that. Performing is great, but it's always somewhat of a let down after the last show is over. I think all the hard work paid off in the end, and I don't know if the audience enjoyed the play half as much as the cast enjoyed putting it on.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY SIGNALS THE END OF THE CLASS OF '80

The purpose of the senior awards assembly was to honor outstanding seniors throughout the year.

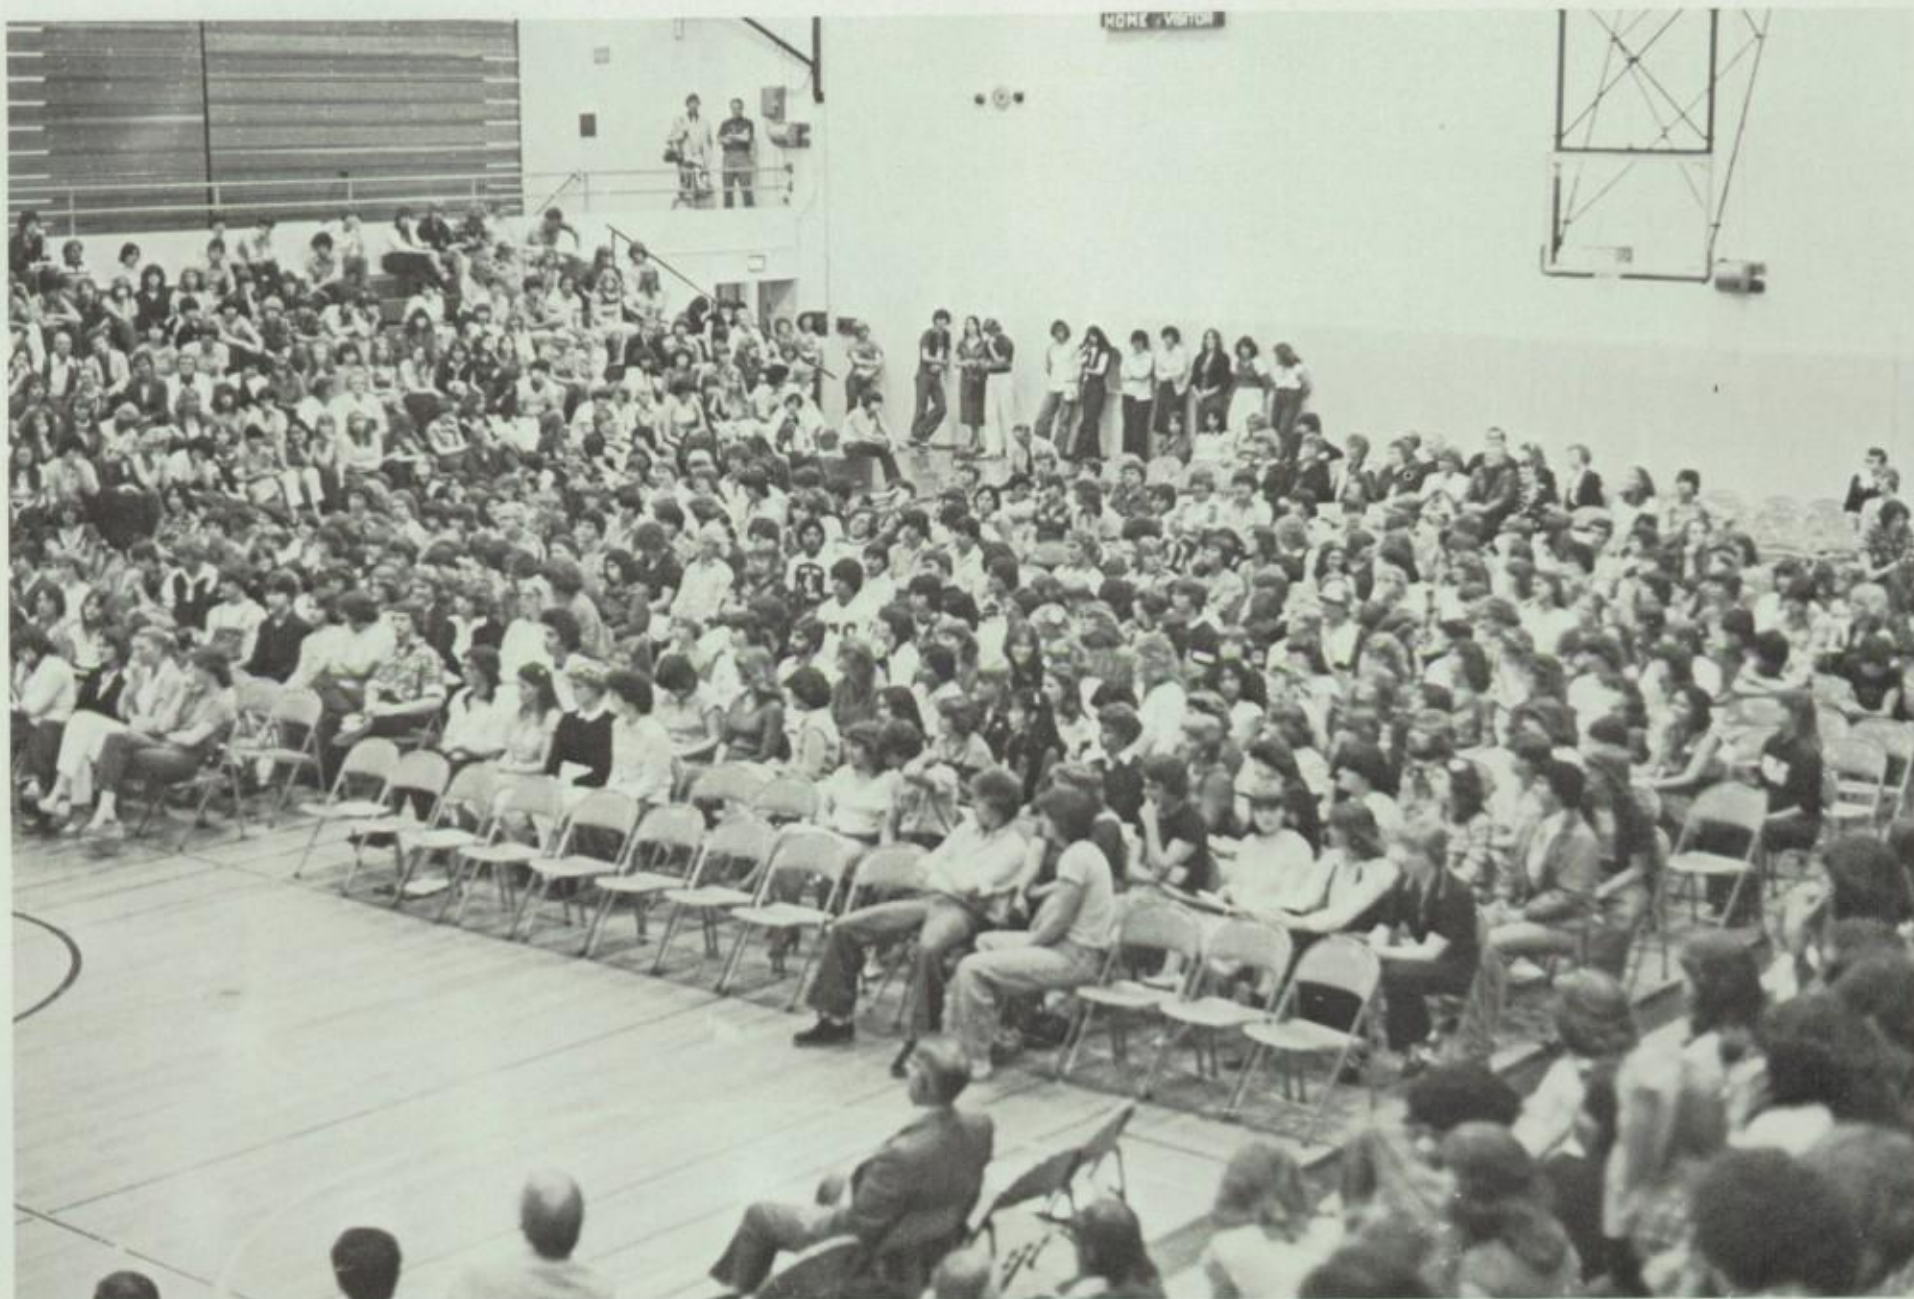

It was really fun to see seniors honored who have devoted a lot of time to school activities. I only wish everyone could've been recognized because everyone has contributed something to the class of 1980.

The assembly made the seniors realize the reality that the end of high school was near. It was an eerie feeling.

RALLY DISTURBS THE PEACE

Rally practice started in June and lasted until the end of basketball season. This year was a success. We participated in the camp held at Lewis and Clark in Portland. We came home from camp with the first place "Award of Excellence", a spirit stick, and many ribbons. Rally is a lot of hard work along with many frustrations, but everything seems to work out in the end. I enjoyed rally; it gave me a chance to get to know the student body and get involved.

JV RALLY DEMONSTRATES CROWD CONTROL

Junior Varsity rally was a lot of fun this year. In the beginning, we had such different personalities that it was hard to work together. But after we got to know each other, rally was fun.

It was really neat, that during the South-West basketball game, we had such an exciting crowd. I think the basketball players appreciated it.

We practiced everyday after school except on game days, and sometimes we were known to even practice on weekends. That was at the very beginning of school, though, when we were getting used to practicing so much.

Other than games, we held the band's banner in the Veteran's Day parade and attended a rally clinic in Gladstone.

Overall, rally was great.

HACKETT ENTERS BAND

Mr. Hackett has done an excellent job this year and has involved the band in a variety of activities. Many people were doubtful about how the band would sound but we didn't have anything to worry about.

As always the band participated in the Veteran's Day parade. The long hours of practice paid off as the band placed first. In March, many members of the band performed in the District Solo & Ensemble Contest at OCE. Twelve solos and two ensembles received superior(I) ratings and the seven other ensembles received excellent (II) ratings. In April, the band competed in the District Band Contest at Willamette University. Out of the ten bands competing, our band came in third. Being a new class this year, the band was not as good as we would have liked but in the future we should be one of the better stage bands in the district.

I feel that overall the band improved a great deal. If people keep working like they did this year, West is going to have one of the best bands in the district.

CHOIR MERGES FOR CONCERTS

There are three different choir classes: varsity choir, which consists mostly of sophomores; concert choir, which has mainly juniors and seniors with a few sophomores; and swing choir, which is a special group of singers who are really good.

Like any class, we mess around. However, we really come together in the end, as you can see by the good concerts. Choir needs 100% from everyone to meet the standards of a really good choir. When two or three aren't working, you can feel the balance being off.

Each and every day is weird in class. You never know what to totally expect. It's such a crazy and LOUD class. People have to realize that everyone can sing, but some people just can't hit the right notes.

ALTRUSA GIRLS FIND DRIVE

Lori Dumont

Catherine Wolfe

The Altrusa Club is an international organization devoted to the service of women holding professional and executive positions in the community. The Albany branch, formed in 1952, is a leading organization in assistance to our area. Various projects throughout the years have included hospital pledges, and aid to students in the forms of high school scholarships, and clothing for the needy.

Each year, the Altrusa Club honors selected high school girls for outstanding abilities in the scholastic, leadership, athletic, or personality areas. This year, five girls were chosen for high achievement in some or all of these categories. The girls and their mothers were honored at the Altrusa Club fashion show, in which the five candidates modeled the clothing of downtown merchants.

'80 ANNUAL SIGN OF THE TIMES

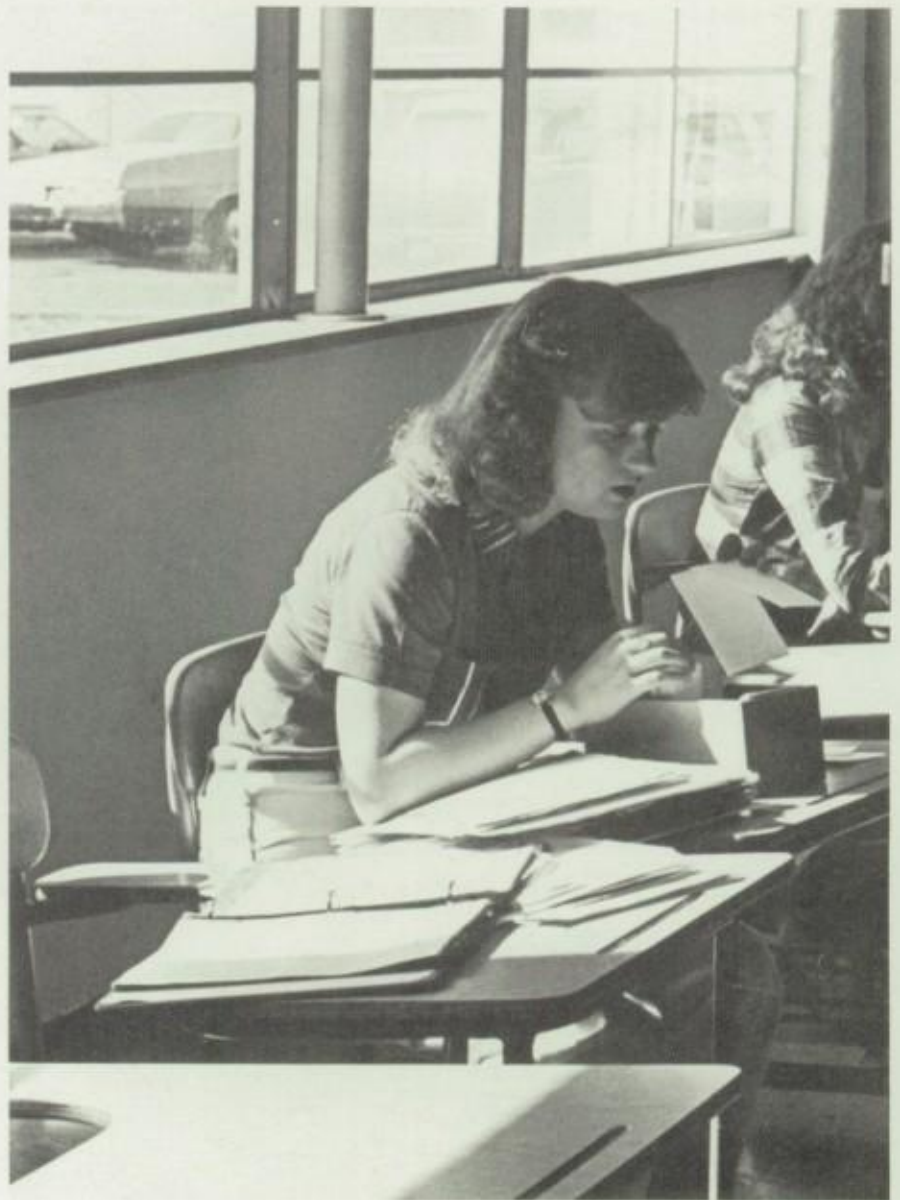

The Bulldog annual covers the entire year of school activities and is printed during the summer, so delivery is early the following year. Staff members divide up the pages and are responsible for them at deadline. We may have to learn all about an activity and present it in a few pictures and words in just a short period of time. When students and faculty do not cooperate, that is rather difficult.

Our first job was to brainstorm a unifying theme and cover design for this yearbook. We decided upon "Signs of the Times." A montage of signs decorate the cover, and the theme is carried throughout the book by individual signs.

This year's staff was a pretty green bunch. We lost some of the original group, but anything lost in quantity was reserved in quality. By the end of the year, everyone had either gained enough experience in page layout, photography, darkroom work, and copywriting to complete a page or had learned how to successfully pawn their responsibilities off on others!

Visits by our Josten's rep, Mike, were memorable because of his unusual sense of humor. And some jobs turned out to be rather fun. One of these was writing captions, which is most rewarding when done in a group. Another was the excursions to Winchell's to pick up donuts for Mr. Wolfe, who we think is suffering from low blood sugar.

LIFE IN THE FAST LANE

The WHIRLWIND underwent some changes this year. It consistently produced an eight page bi-monthly paper and gained an enthusiastic new advisor, Jim Fletcher.

Throughout the year, Fletcher maintained a strict production schedule and worked on the paper with the staff. He was truly interested in it.

The staff produced one of the best papers West Albany's faculty and student body have enjoyed. However, to do this, they worked Saturdays and after school.

There were a number of outstanding writers, dedicated editors, and photographers that were always striving to better themselves and the paper. This was the backbone of the WHIRLWIND.

However, it wasn't all work, and no play. The staff gave Fletcher a "frustration pencil" for Christmas. This pencil was used to help ease his frustration brought on by the paper staff.

Overall, it was a terrific and enjoyable year, staff, and paper.

I-S HOME AWAY FROM HOME FOR SPEECH LEAGUERS

The goals of Speech League are to improve speaking abilities. Through competition, we improved our speaking skills a great deal. There were several competitions in which we ran away with all of the trophies. At district West Albany had 13 people who qualified for state. We voted Karen McLain as this year's Outstanding Speaker. Lori Lieberman received the Most Improved Speaker, and I was named the Entertainer of the Year. Speech Leaguers are a great group of people.

CROSS ROADS OF THE WORLD

The American Field Service allows people to become aware of new things and different cultures.

To even be considered as an exchange student, you have to fill out an eight page detailed account of what you like to do and what you are like. Then the student must go in front of the local screening committee. The committee consists of five people, and they ask a number of questions. Since they know what to look for, they are actually trying to see how the applicant reacts. After the local screening, there are the regional and national screenings, too.

Each year, AFS gets better. Presently, there are 60 countries that exchange. It is estimated that in ten years, 18 more countries will participate. Because of the increase of interest, AFS has a big future.

FFA OPENS RANGE

The Future Farmers of America develops skills that will help students in later careers. It teaches students a lot about farming.

A student doesn't have to be a farmer to get something out of FFA. You can develop public speaking skills and learn parliamentary procedure. This is done through contests made available to members. For example; soil judging, the spring animal show, and public speaking.

FFA had a paper drive and hosted the annual donkey basketball game to raise money for projects and contests. Also, we put on the equipment show in the spring.

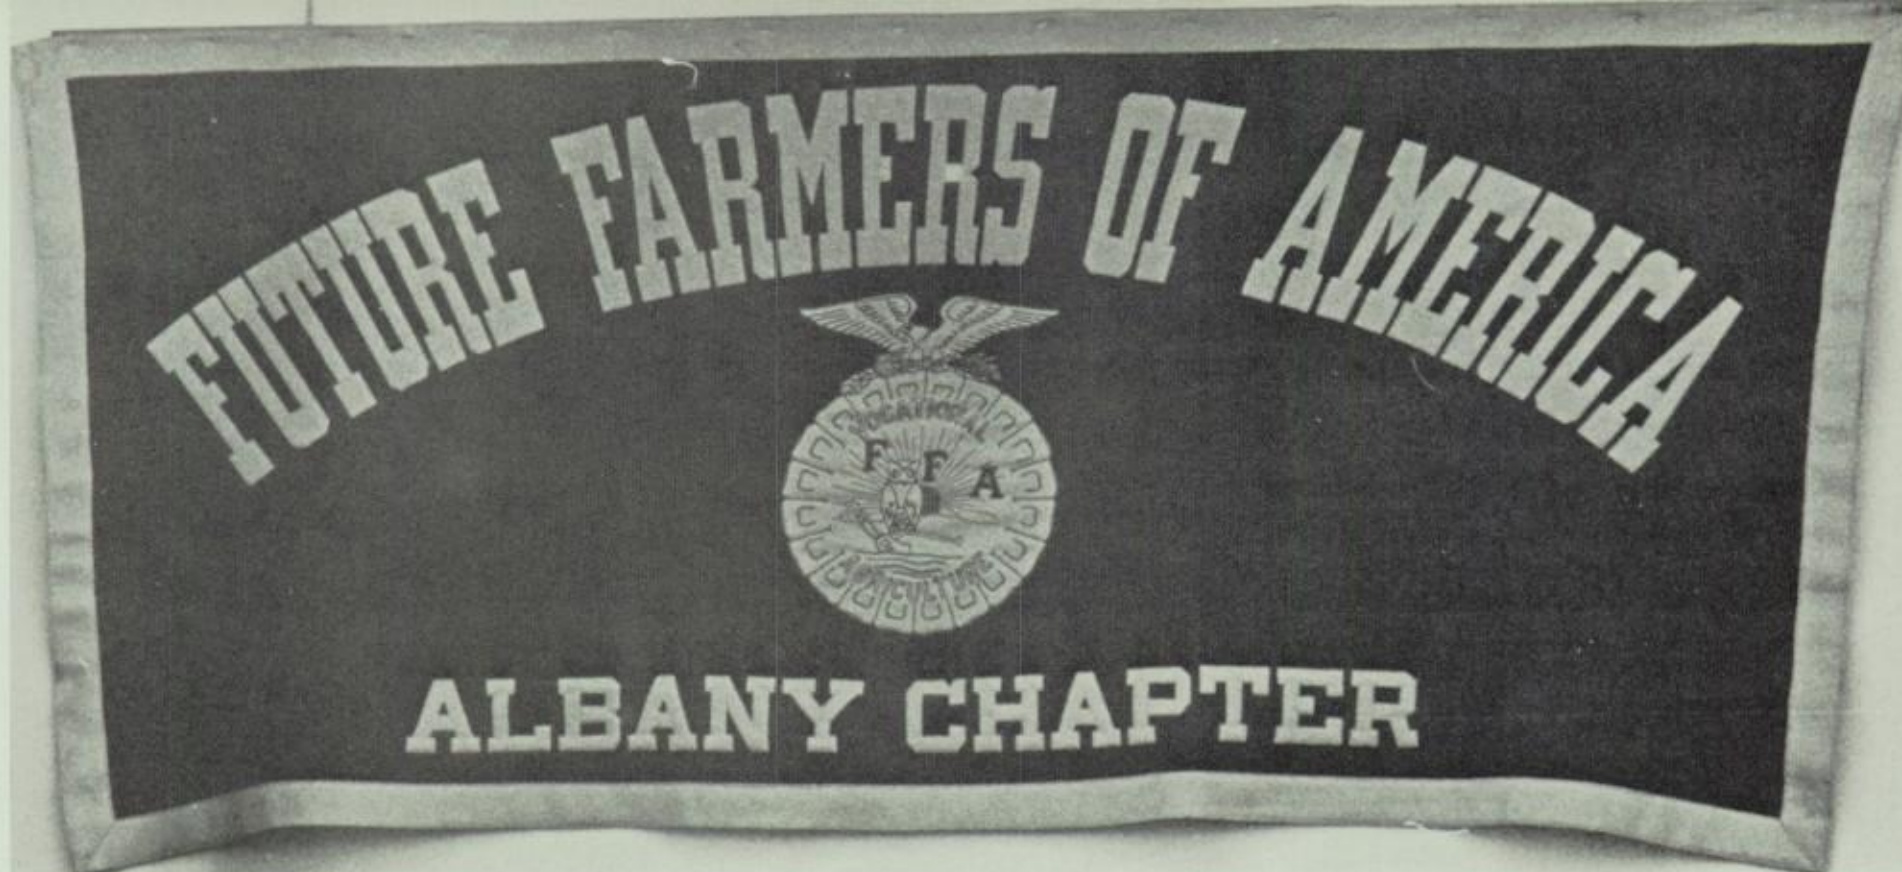

Just like last year, this year's soil judging team placed first in the local competition. At the state legal, the team placed fourth.

HIGHSTEPPERS WATCH THEIR STEP

Different routines for a different team. This years Hi-Steppers have created a new "disco style". Twenty- two members cover the floor for basketball and football games, competition, pep assemblies and public appearances. Lori McGure and Debbie Brumbaugh are our line captains. Our after-school practices, due to GAPS, have caused the number of Hi-Steppers to decrease. We accepted five new members at mid-year tryouts. This was unusual because we usually have tryouts once in the spring. Our fund raising projects are car washes, chili feeds, jewelry sales, and hosting a competition. The money goes towards buying new uniforms. We also make some of our uniforms at home. The majority of our routines come from summer camps our members have attended. The camps attended range from Portland to Hawaii. Hi-Steppers main event of the year is when we host our yearly dance-drill team competition. Teams come from around the state to compete; the competition is open to the public. We spend a lot of time practicing, but we feel like it's worth it in the end.

LATIN CLUB YIELDS SUCCESS

Latin Club has been in existence nine years. But without a doubt, this year was the most outstanding. Most of the 40 members were very busy with projects to raise money for field trips and parties. Some of the year's activities included a pizza sale, the infamous toga dance, cookie sales, and banquets.

These activities were successful because we had so many outstanding people such as David Sanker, Linda Fowler, Lisa Frost, Eric Mark, and many others.

Latin club officers were elected and have done an exceptional job.

FBLA SEES

The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) had a successful year. FBLA held many fund raisers to send club members to the state convention. The state convention was held at the Portland Hilton. Mike Kok placed first in economics and he is going to nationals to compete. Perry Ligterink was chosen as Vice President of state FBLA. I've grown a lot in my knowledge and attitude toward the business world. I've learned to communicate better with people in the club and outside of school. FBLA has given me the incentive to work harder in my classes and to get more involved in the group activities.

"BEWARE" BULLDOG CORNER

This year's Marketing classes did a good job of operating the Bulldog Corner. There were four first year and one advanced class of Marketing. A total of over three hundred students helped in the running of the store.

We learned a lot about business by buying and selling different kinds of candies, doughnuts, and juices. We took turns working in the morning and the noon hour.

Even though it was a lot of hard work at times and we did have to give up some of our morning and lunch hours, it was a lot of fun and I feel that it was worth all the time and trouble."

DRAMA CLUB SEEKS FAME AND FORTUNE

Drama Club was a success for its first year. We helped put on "East Lynne" and "Up the Down Staircase" by doing assistant directing, publicity, backstage work, and lighting. Mr. McAllister is our advisor, and he's got a lot of patience, which is what a director really needs. As actors, he gave us room to develop our own characters.

Besides school performances, we put on a play at Heart of the Valley nursing home in Corvallis. During Christmas vacation, a small group went to New York. We saw three Broadway plays and toured the backstage of the Metropolitan Opera House and Carnegie Hall. Our guide took us everywhere, showing us the sights and sounds of the city.

Even though we didn't do much this year, it was a good base to be improved upon. In the future, Drama Club will have more fundraising projects to put on more and bigger productions. It will also go on more field trips, such as to New York for Broadway plays, Portland for musicals, and Ashland for the Shakespearean Festival.

HONOR SOCIETY'S FUTURE IS AN UPHILL GRADE

This year's Honor Society had about 58 members. At the beginning of the year they raised funds by selling spirit ribbons. They also worked in the concession stand and held bake sales. They helped with the Storybook land and will hold their annual picnic in May.

It was a good year with a lot of fun.

PEOPLE

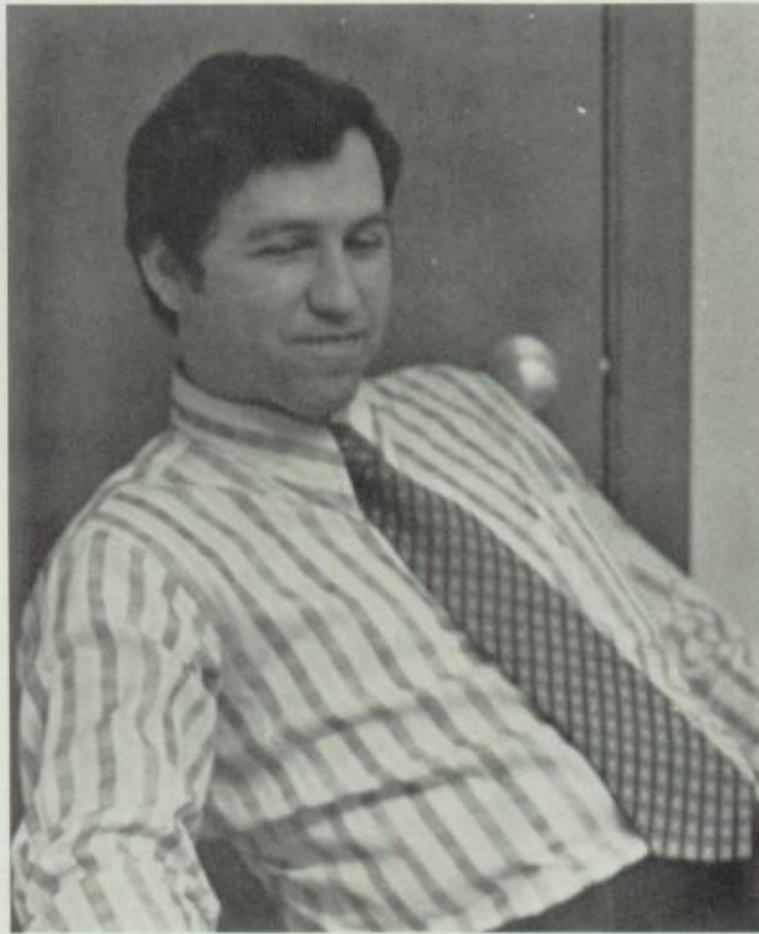

ADMINISTRATORS DIRECT TRAFFIC

This years graduating class has been very good, outstanding at that. They have been very productive in class activities in the three years that they have been at West Albany, whether it's been academics or sports. Over the years they have proven to meet all kinds of challenges and I believe that they can continue to do so in the future.

Our three administrators work very well together. Terry Murray takes care of the curriculum and Guide Group, while Dick Pigg attends to the problems related to attendance and discipline. We are a very close knit group that works well over the years and wish the best of luck to the class of 1980.

Mr. Pigg, not always asleep like he is here, spends most of his time tracking down the students who have skipped as he has since 1976.

COUNSELORS, A GUIDING LIGHT

I feel like this has been a fine class to work with. After the usual soph jitters, they have progressively matured into an excellent group of people.

With a class of 344 people learning to adjust to the habits of school life and relationships with parents, these were the only major problems. As with any group of young people, they need to learn to deal with conflicts, independence, livable levels of dependence upon parents, etc..

This class has been involved mainly in student government, speech and drama, 4-H, athletics, clubs of all kinds.

I have made every attempt to give this class information about education here and outside school. Some have used the information to their advantage; some have not.

COOKS AND JANITORS KEEP THE TRAFFIC MOVING

For those of you who take the lunches and clean halls for granted, you should try trading places with the cooks and janitors. An average work day is from 7:00 am to 4:00 pm. That is for the day shift. The night crew is still here after all the activities have finished. We should appreciate the things these people do for us a lot more than we do.

LEADERS SHIP OUT

Leadership Class is a vehicle for students to voice their opinion, become involved in activities, and attempt change in our system. Picnics, floats, and pep assemblies are visible evidence of this.

Leadership also aides many clubs, students, and classes with activities and organization. This work has merits and must be continued.

However, the class should redirect energy from such projects as open campus and early graduation to outside this limited reality and deal with concrete, pervasive issues of today. School budgets, tax levies, local, state and national elections: Leadership should grasp these issues and affect the surrounding community.

The float stands out in my mind. TALK about a white elephant. Too much time and money was wasted on that project. More direction was needed. We floundered. You learn a lot about both sides of people: The small the petty, the friendly, the phony. It will be useful when dealing with other people.

2ND SEMESTER LEADERSHIP GETS THE GREEN LIGHT

Our motivation was Mr. Flecher and his deadlines. We did many projects, such as, the Veterans Day Float, Pep assemblies, sports week, school picnic and benches for the halls.

This year we had two great Presidents, both Wally and Cathy did great jobs.

SENIORS GET THE BUSY SIGNAL

"This has been one of the busiest years for a senior class at West Albany. We helped with Annuals color pictures, and organized the road run, the class T-shirts, and an original prom. It would have been better if there were more class participation. This has been the best overall class at West."

JUNIOR CLASS RATES AAA

Juniors have really showed concern for the world around them as well as themselves. We have been rivaling the seniors in spirit and power by beating the senior girls in a close game in powderpuff football and by putting up a good fight in competition yells. Juniors are in a class of their own and are ready to take over next year.

SOPHOMORES MOVE TO THE MIDDLE OF THE BUS

Class president keeps me involved in the different activities going on in the school. We had a lot of money raising activities, such as bake sales and dances. We started out slow in the beginning, but gained more participation as the year went on. We have already made $400 for the Junior-Senior Prom.
